To Whom It May Concern;

I'm writing as a volunteer for the World Literacy Crusade. We are applying for a grant from your foundation to help fund the operation of our non-profit organization.

We opened our doors in September of 1998, offering free, professional tutoring to children and adults alike in the Pinellas County area. Our program is quite unique and has proven extremely successful, mainly in bringing people to their expected literacy level. Specializing in servicing "at risk" students (children being raised by illiterate or nearly illiterate parents), we believe that the family is empowered by working with each member using an intensive phonics program, the Learning How To Learn Study Course, and the How To Use a Dictionary Course.

Each student has been averaging 80 to 100 hours of service (from our volunteers). On the following page, I've summarized our basic expenses, which can be calculated to determine an hourly rate of cost per student. This comes out to be approximately $15 per hour per student. Currently we service 30 students a week.

Statistics show that 40% of Pinellas County public school students are reading below grade level.

We are asking you to support 10 children with a 100 - hour package each. At $15 per hour, that is $1500 per student, and for 10 kids/adults, this totals $15,000.

Each sponsor receives progress reports from his/her student, along with a personal letter and photo. In addition, the World Literacy Crusade holds an annual awards banquet where plaques or awards are presented to all sponsors.

Verbal correspondence may be directed to Holly Haggerty, the Executive Director of the World Literacy Crusade at 727-441-4444.

Thank you so much for your attention.

Sincerely,

Caroline Zoccali

The Community Learning Center Program

The Community Learning Center addresses reading, comprehension and study skills in both adults and children. We accept adults reading at a 7th-grade reading level or below, and children in Kindergarten through twelfth grade who are reading one or more grade levels behind. Additionally, we hold free training seminars for parents to teach them skills they can use to help their own children.

Tutoring is done both in groups and one-on-one. All students are interviewed and tested to determine their reading, spelling and comprehension level. They are then matched up with a group and a tutor to work with them on material appropriate to their level and needs.

+ Generally, students begin by learning the sounds of the letters. There are 69 different letters and groups of letters (phonograms) in English that make the various sounds that form words. These letters and groups of letters include: "a" "b" "c" "sh" "th" "ow," etc. The students spend two-thirds of their tutoring time in a group setting drilling these sounds and doing spelling words which contain some of these sounds. In addition to learning the sounds of these phonograms, students read out loud from various reading materials at their level, increasing their ability to read fluently as well as increasing their vocabulary.

Once a student has reached his or her correct reading level, he is then taken through the Learning How to Learn book. This book contains the breakthrough study methods developed by author and humanitarian L. Ron Hubbard. This material precisely lays out what stops a person from being able to study a subject, the barriers to study in other words, and how to handle these barriers. The next book that a student does is How to Use a Dictionary, also by Mr. Hubbard. This teaches the student every aspect of a dictionary entry, from how to find a word in the dictionary to the definition of an idiom, parts of speech and how to use the pronunciation key.

Dear Sirs,

Please find our application for non-profit status as a charitable volunteer tutor center, supported by community members.

We initially incorporated as the World Literacy Crusade of Pinellas County. Our assigned EIN was 59-3521809.

We recently amended our incorporated name and applied for a fictitious name. Thus our new corporation name is:

The Community Learning Center, Inc.
dba World Literacy Crusade of Pinellas County.

Please note that there are NO other changes, except that we are using a different corporation name, but retaining the fictitious name. Nothing else was changed and we retain the same corporation and structure of our organization.

I also am attaching copies of the letters requesting the name changes to the State of Florida, where we are incorporated.

Sincerely,

Kate Draznin

The Community Learning Center Program

The Community Learning Center addresses reading, comprehension and study skills in both adults and children. We accept adults reading at a 7th-grade reading level or below, and children in Kindergarten through twelfth grade who are reading one or more grade levels behind. Additionally, we hold free training seminars for parents to teach them skills they can use to help their own children.

Tutoring is done both in groups and one-on-one. All students are interviewed and tested to determine their reading, spelling and comprehension level. They are then matched up with a group and a tutor to work with them on material appropriate to their level and needs.

Generally, students begin by learning the sounds of the letters. There are 69 different letters and groups of letters (phonograms) in English that make the various sounds that form words. These letters and groups of letters include: "a" "b" "c" "sh" "th" "ow," etc. The students spend two-thirds of their tutoring time in a group setting drilling these sounds and doing spelling words which contain some of these sounds. In addition to learning the sounds of these phonograms, students read out loud from various reading materials at their level, increasing their ability to read fluently as well as increasing their vocabulary.

Once a student has reached his or her correct reading level, he is then taken through the Learning How to Learn book. This book contains the breakthrough study methods developed by author and humanitarian L. Ron Hubbard. This material precisely lays out what stops a person from being able to study a subject, the barriers to study in other words, and how to handle these barriers. The next book that a student does is How to Use a Dictionary, also by Mr. Hubbard. This teaches the student every aspect of a dictionary entry, from how to find a word in the dictionary to the definition of an idiom, parts of speech and how to use the pronunciation key.

♦ With the above material under the student's belt -- the ability to read, the ability to use a dictionary and the ability to study -- the student is then empowered to study any subject with much greater ease.

The Community Learning Center's Fund-raising program

The primary source of income for the center since its opening in September of 1998 has been the Sponsor a Student program in which individuals and businesses from the community sponsor a student in our program for $50 per month. (this covers the cost of one lesson per week.) We have between 40 and 50 sponsors at any given time. (See attached promotion on this)

Additionally, we had a garage sale, car wash and golf fund raiser for the center last year.

Our largest fund-raiser of the year was a Celebrity Silent Auction in which celebrity items were auctioned off to the public. (See attached program.) The center made approximately $8000 profit from this event. We will be doing another auction of this sort this year in August.

In the future we plan to get more funding via government and foundation grants. Attached is an application for a grant through the state of Florida and a sample of a letter being mailed out to foundations looking for their support.

We are also planning on holding a "Battle of the bands" to raise money for the Center next fall. The event will also raise money for Big Brothers Big Sisters and possibly another non-profit organization.

We have no professional fund raisers. The Battle of the Bands event is being put together by a volunteer committee.

Save the World...

The World Literacy Crusade is changing the world by improving the lives of individuals. Our purpose is to eliminate crime, poverty, ignorance and hopelessness through increased literacy.

In addition to the tutoring students receive in reading and writing, all students are taught how to study using the study technology developed by L. Ron Hubbard.

This international volunteer program has already changed the lives of thousands worldwide.

It is a well-known fact that children who do not learn to read are more likely to end up in our prison system.

In fact 70% of the inmates in Florida read below a level that is considered functional.

Here in Pinellas County volunteers work with students, improving their ability to read, study and think for themselves.

Many of the students the World Literacy volunteers work with have already been labeled as learning disabled.

One Child at a Time!

Adopt A Student

For less than $2.00 a day you can help a special child receive one on one tutoring each and every week.

You will also empower that child's mother or father with the ability to help. A vital part of the program is giving parents the skills they need to contribute to and ensure their child's future.

As a sponsor you will receive updates on the progress of the students in the program. You will be invited to graduations and acknowledged for your contribution. You will see for yourself the difference you are making in the lives of these families.

Please take this opportunity to give a family the little help that will last a lifetime.

Narrative:

The Community Learning Center is a volunteer organization which provides tutoring in the areas of reading, comprehension and study skills. The population serviced by our program come from communities with a profile of high crime and low income, mainly from the Greenwood community in Clearwater. We work with both children and adults and focus on working with entire families as it has been found that adults with low reading skills often have children with low reading skills and vice versa.

Volunteers from our program have been working in the Tampa Bay and Orlando areas since 1993. We opened our Center in Clearwater in September of 1998. We have received the support of private citizens and businesses from the community including Publix, the Wal-Mart Foundation, etc. However, because of the huge demand for our program from the members of the community, we are requesting State Funds so we can expand our services.

We understand that there are literacy programs which service Pinellas County residents such as the Pinellas County Literacy Council and Read Pinellas. However, we feel that our program fills a need that is not currently being met. A key component to our program is empowering parents with skills they can use to help their own children. Additionally, part of our program is turning our students into tutors once they have completed the program themselves. We are the only literacy organization that will certify volunteer tutors younger than 18 years old. We have had tremendous success with training youths to help their peers or younger children to improve their reading skills. For the former student/now tutor, gaining the ability to help another is incredibly empowering.

Proposed Project:

We propose to take 100 children and adults through our community-based literacy program. The program consists of four hours of tutoring per week in both group and one-on-one settings. Students will be taught to read fluently, use a dictionary and use basic study skills. Parents will gain skills which they can use to help their own children with their school work. We will work with students in the Greenwood neighborhood of Clearwater as well as St. Petersburg, where we have a base of volunteers and students interested in participating in this program. Our plan is to fully document the results of our program and our methodology with the intention of eventually opening up Community Learning Centers around the State.

Services Provided:

The average youth coming into the Center is three grade levels behind and the average adult reads at a 6th grade reading level. Based on our experience, we estimate that it will take six months for the average student to complete the program described above at four hours of tutoring a week.

Measurable Outcome Anticipated:

1) 100 children and adults reading on an average of three grade levels higher than when they began, with the skill to study and use a dictionary. 2) Increased self-confidence, in children and adults alike, in using the library and reading books 3) An improvement in the children's performance and attendance in school 4) Improvement in family relationships, i.e., parents with the skill and confidence to help their own children by reading together and assisting them with their homework.

The need for this program is based on the following:

Research shows the inextricable link between chronic welfare dependency and intergenerational undereducation. For instance, welfare recipients with low literacy skills work 11 weeks per year, on average, compared to 29 weeks for recipients with strong skills. Workers who lack a high school diploma earn a monthly income of $452, compared to $1829 for those with a bachelor's degree.

There are 44 million U.S. adults -- 20% -- who are 16 or older, who are functionally illiterate which means they can't read above a 6th grade reading level. According to the Pinellas County School Board, 40% of public school students read below grade level.

A report done by the National Research Council, dated March 18, 1998, states, "The majority of reading problems faced by today's adolescence and adults could have been avoided or resolved in the early years of childhood." Secretary Riley states that the goal of the nation is to get students to read well and independently by the end of third grade. According to Secretary Riley, the three things that a student needs to learn to read well are: learning letters and sounds, learning to read for meaning, practicing reading in different types of books. The program of the Community Learning Center fulfills all of these points.

Regarding the project request being heard before a body of elected officials:

Unfortunately, the schedule of the Pinellas County Legislative Delegation Public Hearing meeting in January was full. However, over half of the Pinellas County Delegation has toured the Center or been met with at their legislative offices. In addition to this, information packs about our Center, the program and this project request were distributed to the entire Pinellas County delegation.
