Hello.

Drugs, crime, illiteracy and decaying moral standards in the workplace and the community threaten productivity.

Of these, drugs are the most devastating. Drug abuse is wasting our most valuable resource – competent employees.

The Association for Better Living and Education (ABLE) is an international philanthropy which supports organizations that offer effective solutions to these widespread problems. One such social betterment program effective in the field of drug rehabilitation, prevention and education is Narconon.

Narconon is a completely drug-free approach to rehabilitation and is the only program in the world to offer a unique purification program that sweats out drug residues left in the body that could prevent a person from fully coming off drugs. This remarkable program was developed by American author, L. Ron Hubbard.

Narconon's drug prevention and education activities have earned wide acclaim from business people, educators and government officials.

It is imperative that workable solutions be widely promoted and broadly supported. The problems must be solved today so that all of us may prosper in the future.

ABLE recommends the Narconon program because it is effective. It gets results.

It is our workplace. Our community. Our responsibility. Only a team effort will give us an improving life and increased productivity. For more information, contact me at the number below.

Sincerely,
