Dear Sir,

Do we let Drugs get the better of our future generation?

Per the National Institute of Drug Abuse:

- * The average age that young people are being exposed to drugs is 8 years old.
- * In 1983, drug abuse cost the US in lost productivity, increased insurance rates and law enforcement $57.9 billion.
- * This year the Federal Budget for the handling of drug abuse is $4.2 billion.

The need for Corporate America to fight the war against drugs has never been more urgent!

The Association for Better Living and Education, a non-profit philanthropic association has joined this fight.

We are raising funds to support a National Drug Education and Prevention Program being run by Narconon International.

We have discovered that Narconon, a Drug Rehabilitation Program, using the methods of L. Ron Hubbard:

- * Has educated 300,000 youth, parents and professionals in the United States on the truth about drugs and its hazards
- * This program has been supported by many Foundations and Corporations such as the Milkin Family Foundation and the Stuart Foundation. Thousands of private individuals have supported this program.
- * Narconon has documented successes of youth who have decided against drugs after taking the seminars.

Narconon is a Public Benefit 501(c) (3) corporation.

The seminars are run by Narconon in public and private schools. An average classroom consists of 40 students. This is done at a cost of $200 per classroom.

Think about this! For $5.00 you can keep a person off drugs. There are youth waiting to take the seminars.

Education and prevention is better than cure!

Checks are payable to Narconon International, care of the above address.

Yours truly,
