CHILOCCO
NEW LIFE
CENTER

The first method is the one that this writer sometimes hands out.

One just goes to sleep at home, usually surreal and forget it.

The other is to wait a while until beingness that is proof against the knocks and arrows of misfortune.

The first method has distinct liabilities. However it is the most usual route taken by human beings who find the going too rough.

Alcohol, drugs, self-hypnotism, are all men have been proven to use. The only real trouble with them is that one wakes up into the same world but a bit wankier, a bit rubbery of eye, feeling a bit worse.

The drug or other knocks on the head didn't change the universe, but you're still in it, still catching it, probably with an open lower jaw, leaning to it. So the first method is a very good one.

The second method, the waiting for the world to fall has long been practiced. Unfortunately there wasn't any readily available technology to accomplish it.

It's one thing to hear that we should rise above it all and quite another to do it.

The road out is the road of individual awareness. It is not a wholly painless road.

Those who had already taken the road down had a rough time going up again. If they increased their awareness enough they would prosper at a high level where they were at cause and in which they could not only cope with their attachment but could prosper in it, well above the reach of suffering.

But how to get them up from the point to which they had already gone down? I was finally able to map an easy road which could be traveled despite drugs, despite the starting point, and of course that made it easier for everybody. That road begins with the Narconon Course.

I would feel pretty bad if a lot of good guys had to live with the road blocked.

Like anybody else I have had my own share of slings and arrows over the years and I know what it is like.

It isn't all that easy to help one's fellows and to be helped in return. But the end product is itself worth a lot of slings and arrows.

The road out is the way up.

I hope you make it.

—L. Ron Hubbard

Introduction

At Narconon Chilocco New Life Center, the rehabilitation experience is a learning process. We refer to our clients as students rather than patients.

The object of the Narconon program is to realistically understand and solve the problems which brought about drug or alcohol abuse.

We have developed Narconon Chilocco New Life Center as a complete rehabilitation center where students can retreat from life's confusions and can have the time and space to create a new beginning.

The road may seem long, but it is here. The route is well marked and has been successfully traveled by many before. There is much to be gained along the way and the prize: a new life.

The Narconon Program

Narconon is something different.

It is a highly effective, totally drug-free program. It rehabilitates drug or alcohol abusers and puts them back in control of their lives.

Narconon is not a newcomer in the rehabilitation field. Founded nearly twenty-five years ago, the Narconon program uses proven drug rehabilitation technology developed by bestselling American author and humanitarian, L. Ron Hubbard.

Narconon began in 1966 in Arizona State Prison. The name Narconon means non-narcosis or drugs—no! Due to the unprecedented success of Mr. Hubbard's methods, the Narconon program rapidly spread to other correctional facilities and, in 1972, the first public program opened in Los Angeles.

Today, there are Narconons in Italy, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Canada, West Germany, Holland, England, Denmark, Australia and France. In America, Narconons are located in California, Massachusetts, Florida and the Narconon Chilocco New Life Center in Oklahoma.

Narconon graduates are brought back to life: confident, in control and able to achieve their goals without the use of drugs. A Narconon graduate is not left with the urge to revert, nor does he need to be put on other medication to keep him stable.

For the millions of individuals personally caught up in the trap of drug abuse, and the millions of others who are directly or indirectly affected, the Narconon program provides a real and workable route to freedom from drugs.

L. Ron Hubbard

L. Ron Hubbard is one of the most acclaimed and widely read authors of all time. His career spans more than 50 years, during which he produced over 530 published works which have sold over 94 million copies in more than two dozen languages.

Through hundreds of books and literally thousands of articles and lectures, L. Ron Hubbard communicated and taught the methods which today are used by millions to improve their own lives and the lives of those around them.

Always concerned for his fellow man, Mr. Hubbard began an investigation into drugs and drug addiction. His research found that drugs not only harm a person's health, but also his learning rate, attitudes, personality and ultimately trap the individual himself.

He discovered that minute amounts of drugs remained in the body's fatty tissue, threatening a person's health and well-being, even years later. This phenomenon was not limited to street drugs but included numerous other common chemicals and toxins capable of negative physical and mental effects long periods after ingestion.

Mr. Hubbard developed exact techniques to deal with the physical and mental problems brought about by drug use. None of these solutions involve the use of any other drug. These methods have been used successfully by hundreds of thousands of people around the world to regain control of their lives.

L. Ron Hubbard's breakthroughs in the field of drugs and their effect on the mind and the body, have given the world its first truly workable method of drug rehabilitation. His discoveries and methods for handling drug problems have recently been published in the book Clear Body, Clear Mind.

Narconon Chilocco New Life Center

L. Ron Hubbard concluded that drugs can affect perception, alertness and reaction time for months or even years after taking them. Further, these residual drugs can trigger cravings for more drugs.

The drugs one took yesterday can still be in the body today. Minute residue of drugs, including medicinal drugs, can lodge in the fatty tissue and, even years later, release into the system, triggering "flashbacks" and other adverse effects.

The Narconon program uses an intensive, closely supervised program utilizing sauna, nutritional supplements and exercise along with proper nutrition to bring about the elimination of these fat-stored drug residues. The benefits from this purification process can be spectacular.

A student progresses through the program at his own pace. There is no fixed time, but people usually complete the full program in two to three months.

Narconon is different from other programs. It covers a lot of ground in a highly effective manner. It helps restore self-esteem and self-worth. It does not seek to control the student but to put him or her back in control themselves.

The tools developed by L. Ron Hubbard and provided by Narconon are there for the drug, alcohol or substance user to apply to his or her life. Applied as they are intended, they will help the individual to create a new life without drugs.

Set on 167 acres of lush Oklahoma Great Plains landscape, the Narconon Chilocco New Life Center was designed to provide individualized attention in a friendly atmosphere. The beautiful countryside, peaceful lake, spacious recreational areas and abundant wildlife make this an ideal setting for complete rehabilitation.

Formerly the site of the Chilocco Indian Agricultural School, Narconon Chilocco New Life Center has been developed by Narconon with agreement of leaders from five Native American tribes. The renovated campus maintains the Indian motif and the spirit that this site will bring new beginnings—new life—for many.

At Narconon Chilocco, staff are there to assist 24 hours a day every day of the year.

Services

Painless Withdrawal

This is delivered to anyone who goes through physical withdrawal symptoms in coming off drugs. The service is designed to get a person through drug withdrawal without pain or discomfort.

Specific vitamin and mineral doses are administered and special techniques are used to ease mental and physical pain.

A 24-hour watch is kept by an experienced counselor who helps the student through this period.

The process generally takes four to five fully supervised days.

Communication Course

The student goes through a series of drills designed to extrovert him and get him or her into better communication with the environment.

Sauna Sweat-Out Program

This part of the program uses an exact regimen of exercise, sauna and nutritional supplements to bring about detoxification by ridding the fatty tissues of drug residues.

Learning Improvement Course

This is a one to two day course to enable the student to get through the following steps of the program. It improves his/her learning abilities.

Gain Control Over Your Life Course

Students work with each other on drills which give them greater control of themselves and their environment. This closely supervised course is a major step toward a drug-free life. In this training, the student learns to help someone else as well as get his own life under control.

Life Skill Services

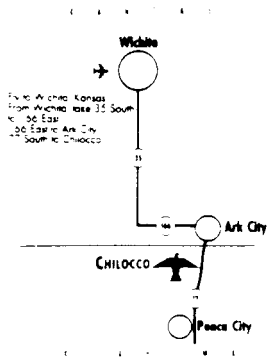

This consists of reviewing and handling points of the past which caused the student to become addicted to drugs. It addresses areas of his/her life which will help him/her continue to lead a drug-free life after graduating from the Narconon program. It also provides them with the survival tools to continue improving conditions and relationships after leaving Chilocco. It gives the student a fresh, clean start.

A Note on Family Relations

There is a student consultant who can provide families with any information they need. Students regularly call their families to keep them updated on how they are doing. Parents are welcome to visit Chilocco and stay on the campus to visit their relatives.
